

For over 60 years Lima-Lto combines its experience in the orthopaedic area with its know-how in the field of implantable materials of biomechanics. Implantable prosthesis, substitutes for bone articulations, apply distinct concepts such as modularity and the use of innovative materials: Trabecular Titanium, nanostructured Titanium, “ceramics”, bioglass coatings, hydrogels and stem cells for applications in the orthopaedic field. Our consolidated experience is supported by the continuous and constant research activities conducted in the field of scientific projects in collaboration with European universities. These factors allow Lima-Lto to be present on the most important worldwide markets.

Lima-Lto, founded in 1945 by Carlo Leopoldo Lualdi since 1970 under the guidance of his son Gabriele, is an affirmed manufacturer of medical products and also distinguishes itself by a constant impulse in research and advanced technology in the other areas of its diversified business activities: aeronautical, mechanical and engines.

A significant 15-20% of the company’s annual turnover, which doubles every 3 years, mainly represented by its export figures, is reinvested in research and study of new technologies and materials.

Strongly oriented in globalization, Lima-Lto has a company structure which consists in three modern facilities in Italy - in the regions of Friuli-Venezia-Giulia, Emilia Romagna and in Sicily - in addition to its 10 subsidiaries.

Of great importance to the company are its human resources: experienced managers, experts and technicians guaranteeing professionalism at all levels, for a total of over 300 employees. For the quality of life, the social and human environment, the facility in establishing interpersonal relationships, the company has decided to keep its core business in Friuli in order to continue to combine the past with the future, with a constant, best expressed by Ted Levitt, marketing guru of the Harvard Business School:

“The future belongs to people who see possibilities before they become obvious”
